

The book was found

Higher! Higher! (Leslie Patricelli Board Books)

Synopsis

The skyâ™s no limit in a witty board book about a child on a swing and the wonders of the imagination. One child. One swing. An obliging dad. The inevitable plea to go Higher! Higher! Add Leslie Patricelli's wildly expressive illustrations, and an everyday pastime reaches new heights of humor and whimsy.

Book Information

Series: Leslie Patricelli board books

Board book: 30 pages

Publisher: Candlewick; Brdbk edition (April 27, 2010)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0763644331

ISBN-13: 978-0763644338

Product Dimensions: 7 x 0.6 x 7 inches

Shipping Weight: 14.4 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.0 out of 5 starsÂ Â See all reviewsÂ (51 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #70,556 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #93 inÂ Books > Children's Books >

Early Learning > Basic Concepts > Words #339 inÂ Books > Children's Books > Growing Up &

Facts of Life > Family Life > Parents #1579 inÂ Books > Children's Books > Activities, Crafts &

Games > Activity Books

Age Range: 2 - 5 years

Grade Level: Preschool - Kindergarten

Customer Reviews

Do you remember the excitement of being a kid on a swing set and screaming as loudly as you could to be sent higher? You were but a passenger on that crazy bus and the sky was the limit. For the little girl in this book, the sky is only the very beginning of her amazing journey upward. Each push from her dad brings this little pig-tailed cutie to new dizzying heights. First she can see over the bushes, then over the rooftops. A few more pushes and she can see the tops of mountains, a passing airplane and how Earth appears from above. Just when you think she couldn't swing any higher, she meets a surprising new friend (no spoilers here!) before beginning her descent back to Dad. This book is short on words, but not on emotion. The excitement is clearly evident on the little girl's face as she swings further into the sky. The first seven pages only reiterate the title "Higher! Higher!" and it's up to the reader to inject the enthusiasm. Given the illustrations of her swing progress, that's a pretty easy task. I love that Leslie can take a everyday, mundane activity and bring to light the type of imaginative thinking that kids are capable of. The swing set might be restricted to her own backyard, but this little girl's imagination knows no bounds. The author paragraph on the back of the dust jacket cracks me up: Leslie Patricelli lives in the mountain town of Ketchum, Idaho, with her musician husband, three inspiring children, one fat cat, one skinny cat, two fast rabbits, and a legion of well-trained sea monkeys. If that's a peep at Leslie Patricelli's sense of humor, sign me up for all her books. And I'm relieved to hear her sea-monkeys are well trained - that's the mark of a good author.

My daughter (age 4) loves books. Of our embarrassingly large collection of children's books, "Higher! Higher!" has bubbled to the top of the stack next to the bed. Like the other children's books that I'd consider great, "Higher! Higher!" doesn't rely on a complex story arc to tell its story. In fact, in this case, the author hardly relies on words at all to tell her story. It is precisely this lack of words--combined with whimsical (yet also sparse) artwork--that makes the book so compelling (dare I say "addictive"?) to kids. This book is a favorite because my daughter loves to linger on each page, discussing the possibilities that each picture holds. It is definitely not a book that just gets read to a child: there is ample room on each page for creativity to blossom, and we often spend more time reading this book than reading books with more pages. I am certain it will be the first book my daughter reads to herself (and let's be honest here: once she learned to recognize the words "higher" and "hi", she was reading the book to me). It's a fun book, a silly book, a beautiful book, and I highly recommend it.

It makes me sad to see the reviews here of parents complaining that the book has repetitive and simple language, because it indicates that those parents don't realize how fun it is to talk to kids about the pictures in books! My daughter and I enjoy talking about many things in this book, like the giraffe who probably lives in a zoo near the swingset, the little boy who loses his balloon from the rooftop (and the mountain climber catches it), whether dogs really fly in jet planes, how funny it is to send a monkey into space in a rocket, and what the alien's planet and parent might look like. Plus, the simple language means that my 2-year-old has easily memorized the text and "reads" this book all by herself. We love it!

I bought this book because my daughter loves to swing high in the playground and I encourage her to do so. The story is about a little girl who wants to go higher than a giraffe, a building, and so forth.

My daughter enjoys the book tremendously and even talks about it when we are at the playground...if a book has stimulated her mind, that's about all I can ask for.

I love Leslie Patricelli books and have purchased at least 8 of them for my grandson. Higher! Higher is the first one purchased before reading and I was disappointed. Normally this author has engaging text but Higher! Higher! simply says Higher! Higher! throughout the book. It also has a goofy alien which I found to be weird and out of context with the storyline. Not my favorite.

Fun illustration but for a 2 year old who is really vocal, books need to have more words than just "Higher, Higher!" • Same thing with "Faster, Faster!" • I like the baby version of her books which have more wordings.

Not our favorite Leslie Patricelli book. My kids are bilingual and it's hard to find good Spanish books for them. This one has very very few words in it, so there wasn't much Spanish reading to be done.

This book came in great condition, on time, and was definitely something I wanted; I love Leslie Patricelli books (have previously borrowed Potty from the library- so cute!) and I wanted to buy this book for the 22 month old I nanny for. He LOVES the swing and he loves books by this author so I thought it would be great. Once it arrived, I realized it said "Higher! higher!" on pretty much every page. Only one or two pages said something different. I read it to him twice and it was just too much of the same word. The pictures are really great, and really imaginative so if you have a kid that likes to read on their own and just look at pictures, this works. My little buddy just wants you to read the book over and over. I know thought I'd say the word "higher!" so much. So just a heads up for anyone wondering what's inside. I'll post pics too.

Download to continue reading...

Higher! Higher! (Leslie Patricelli board books) Potty (Leslie Patricelli board books) Hair (Leslie Patricelli board books) No No Yes Yes (Leslie Patricelli board books) Yummy Yucky (Leslie Patricelli board books) Big Little (Leslie Patricelli board books) Baby Happy Baby Sad (Leslie Patricelli board books) Baby's Book Tower (Leslie Patricelli board books) Toot (Leslie Patricelli board books) Quiet Loud (Leslie Patricelli board books) Blankie (Leslie Patricelli board books) Tickle (Leslie Patricelli board books) Boo! (Leslie Patricelli board books) The Little Red Box of Bright and Early Board Books (Bright & Early Board Books(TM)) Tabbed Board Books: My First Trucks and Diggers: Let's Get Driving! (Tab Board Books) The Little Blue Box of Bright and Early Board Books by Dr. Seuss (Bright & Early Board Books(TM)) Tabbed Board Books: My First Colors: Let's Learn Them All! (Tab Board Books) Tabbed Board Books: My First Busy Home: Let's Look and Learn! (Tab Board Books) Tabbed Board Books: My First Numbers: Let's Get Counting! (Tab Board Books) Tabbed Board Books: My First Animals: Let's Squeak and Squawk! (Tab Board Books)

Dmca